Nanton Vs. Claresholm

Live Up

Claresholm Goal: Nanton
McNichol Point: Anderson
Shanks Corner: Lyons
Ames Rover: Colquhoun
Sohy Right: Chard
Gardner Left: Stanton
Clark Left: Hardwick
Referee: Eric Moffatt

Score 2 to 2

The train pulled into the station. The team and riders jumped on board.

Too-Too-We're off for Nanton. The crowd they were so roared. The game it started at ten to eight. At the moment the puck touched ice.

Referee Moffatt watched the play. Like a gambler watches his dice. The puck went up and down the ice. And down and up they say.

Until by a rush from Nanton. Brought the score tie very worst way.

The boys were off again. The shots, the puck, the play. But each and every shot was stopped. By Nanton's steady old folk.

The boys are on the ice again. And inside a minute and a half. Folk could help, but let one past.

For six minutes more the game went on. And one could not call it luck. That Nanton by a speedy rush. Made the net shake with that puck.

"Four more minutes" some one more. "So boys you'll have to try." The boys dug in like demons. And made the scene a fine.

To show them how to play. But time was limited and business called. For the boys to be home that day.

To The Manager Claresholm Opera House

Jan. 29, 1914

Dear Sir:

Our "Rosary" Company will be coming through your section in the middle of next month and pursuant to your request a short time ago that we try and play some of our attractions in your section. We have made arrangements in booking the town of this company, so as to be able to give you Tuesday, Feb. 17th.

We were unable to give you the "Barrier" the time you wanted it, as we were afraid that sufficient business could not be done there, to make it profitable to jump down there and back with our heavy expense. But we will take a chance with you on "The Rosary" and if we can get sufficient business to warrant continued use of our latter playing there, I can assure you of all our attractions in the future.

We are putting out a Big production "The Holy City" also this season, which will be through your section about the latter part of April.

Yours Sincerely,
Sherman A. Aylenworth

Why don't the Meadow Creek hog raisers ship a car of their own and save themselves? Why hog raisers like Sid Lauck, Truman Mathy and others should have no difficulty.

A fine crowd turned out to the Parish Hall on Tuesday.

Mr. Houghshead sold 170 head cattle to the Vancouver Meat Co.

Don't forget the "Rosary" is coming to Claresholm on Feb. 17th.

I guess Eric Moffatt knows little about receiving Hockey EH? What?

He says the shows were splendid.

Keep on the look out for Rev. W. E. Gallows of Calgary who will be lecturing here in the Methodist Church soon.

All curriers and people in town congratulate Mr. Ringrose in the way he drove the rocks and guided the players of his rink.

Jan. 29th Stately visited "Clare" folk for a curving game and went home with heads in the air because they won. All we see is another chance.

Stanley Nanton rulers strided to town and put up an exceptionally close game against Claresholm. Tucker won by two against Saunders and in the thirteenth and Moffatt lost by one to Sellar of Nanton.

The town people ought to gather around to see these close games.

The Band held a Sheet "Dance" in the L.O.O.F. hall Friday last which was very poorly attended. The town people should have turned out better as the music was fine under the directorship of Robert Larkin.

The final games for the "Caigay" Bunting and "Holding On" trophy did not have to be played as Ringrose was too far a head of the other competitors and none of the other rinks could possibly catch him.

The hockey match that was advertised for Saturday afternoon was postponed on account of very rough weather. Lots more games coming, people don't spend your money otherwise.

Don't Run Away

If you don't like the kind of town in which you live, don't run away. If things are running down, a way you have to see.

If something isn't up to date, or good as things of old.

While other towns are simply great, or so you have been told.

If you would like to see a place that's full of push and snap.

A town that has a faster pace a town that's on the map.

Yes, if you would like to know to find it in a jerk.

If tell you where you ought to go, you ought to go to work.

You needn't people to grip and leave the folks behind.

You needn't go and take a trip some other place to find.

You needn't go and settle down.

Where friends of old you miss.

For if you want that kind of town, Just make it out of this.

Worth Reading

"ROAD AND GLEN" of Woodstock, Ont. has put out an exceptionally good issue for February 1914, both its regards the character of the reading matter and the quality and interest of the illustrations. That well known writer and naturalist, Boyensville Dale, contributes an article entitled the Bearman, description of a ranch where bears are successfully raised in captivity. A humorous strain runs through this story, a slight departure but an entertaining one, from this excellent lecturer that is to be obtained in the form of a book, "The Canadian Farmer," is a continuation of the fine series that is being contributed to this magazine by H. FIGHTING A TRUST IN BINDER TWINE

Statement of the Grain Growers' Guide
With a Logical Deduction
Therefrom

In the Grain Growers' Guide appears an interesting article on binder twine. Dissatisfied with the high price of twine the Grain Growers' Association for a year past has been investigating the cause, and as a result has come to the conclusion that the American binder twine manufacturers have created a corner in the raw materials and established a monopoly. This says The Guide, is a serious situation for the Western farmer, who has to have the twine at any cost, as there is nothing to take its place.

The Secretary of the Grain Growers' Association, so we are told, "has had the problem under consideration for a long time, and last fall he took the matter up with some British capitalists and manufacturers with the object in view of starting a British binder twine industry in competition with the American trust. It was then that the investigation of the real conditions started, but the project had to be dropped, because it was demonstrated to the satisfaction of the investors that the United States binder twine trust had such an absolute monopoly on the necessary raw material that effective competition was out of the question."

The Guide adds: "There is reason to hope, however, that the Western farmer soon will be independent of the American binder twine trust. The investigation by the Grain Growers' Association and the British manufacturers resulted in an attempt now being made to introduce machinery using flax straw instead of the present material. If this experiment is successful it will mean the establishment of a new industry in the Western Canadian Provinces, a big saving for the farmer, and besides, let him out of the twine trust's clutches." So far so good! But while struggling to free the farmer from one American combine, the Guide advocates a fiscal policy which would enable two or three score United States trusts to drive competing Canadian industries out of business and then advance the prices of many necessities of life at their own will all over the Dominion.

CATTLE AND HOGS NEEDED FOR MARKET

Scarcity and High Price of Meats
Point to Profitable Opening
For Our Farmers

In the high price of meats and the scarcity of cattle, sheep and hogs the Canadian farmer has a strong incentive to go in for livestock where he has not done so before, and to go in on a larger scale where he already has made a beginning. The population is growing far faster than the meat supply both in Canada and the United States, and the new American tariff will, it now appears, admit Canadian cattle to the States free of duty. It would look as though the Canadian farmer has a promising source of pretty high profits right at hand.

That extensive sections of the West appreciate the situation is indicated by the statement that one man has brought 8,000 young steers from Mexico. It is said that Alberta alone will have 800,000 hogs ready for market this year and that the Lethbridge district will yield 1,000,000 pounds of wool. There is plenty of room for progress along this line.

Six or seven years ago Canada and the United States were both considerable exporters of cattle and meat to European countries, particularly Britain. In 1905 Canada exported to Britain 148,718 live animals, and the United States $14,000. In 1913 Canada exported to Britain 6,800 cattle, and the United States 29,887. The North American countries have dropped out of the cattle and meat exporting business on account of their increasing home population and an ever diminishing quantity of stock.

Packing Plants
Writing from Moose Jaw to his paper, Mr. Norman Lamberton, Western representative of the Toronto Globe, says:

"Already plans are being made by public and private interests for the accommodation of the increased volume of mixed farming products which will be marketed in this Province in future. The Gordon-Croft-Pare Co. have arranged to build a large packing plant at Moose Jaw and then, Mr. McManis, Minister of Agriculture for Saskatchewan, is now talking of the establishment of a packing plant and abattoir on a co-operative basis, similar to that of the elevator and creamery companies in Saskatchewan."

Rural Health

"There is a common impression that country children are naturally more vigorous than city children. This ought to be true, but unfortunately it is not. In general food is not so well prepared in the country as it is in the city; the available variety is smaller; the houses and schools are less well ventilated; forestalling to winter is common; tuberculosis is not so well understood and the chances for 'house infection' are greater; and general public sanitation is at least without exception neglected in the country. Children in the country are more exposed to unfavorable weather conditions than are city children. They often walk along distances in extreme heat, cold, or wet. They are often walking through cold weather, and are consequently overheated in the schoolroom, and then are chilled on the way home. The solution of a pure school is often very bad. The common drinking cup, brought from a well over the water pump, is often a very filthy one. The children are often very dirty. For these are in no way responsible conditions, waiting for a solution either not provided at all, or not of a high order, a dirty tin basin, and no common toilet."

HOME MARKET SAVED STATES FROM DISASTER

A Glance at Development in the United States—Early Industrial History—Jefferson and the Tariff

In seven years, 1847-1854, when excluded from the markets of Europe by Napoleon's Berlin Decree, and Great Britain's retaliatory acts, American industry was not only saved but prospered. Her exports fell from $112,000,000 to a little over seven millions. There was a financial crisis and even the government lost credit. A government loan for seven and a half millions failed miserably, only one-third being subscribed.

Manufacture Necessary
The tariff, it is often argued, to build up a home market or else perish. Her protective policy dates from 1816. Long before this Jefferson had said the American people must be clothed in domestic manufactures, or else be reduced to a dependence on a foreign nation or to be clothed in skins and live like wild beasts in dens and caverns. It is equally true of Canada that manufactures are necessary to our independence as our comfort. In the decade after the War, 1816, the United States port opened a home market principally due, it must be admitted, to the industry of the North. The chief source of wealth in the South was the export of raw materials. Accordingly, during a period of national calamity far worse than that of Napoleon's era, there was no financial crisis in the North. The population actually increased three millions. In the South on the contrary, the loss of their foreign trade brought bankruptcy to the Confederate States. The North, with a superior vitality due to a home market resting on the two pillars of agriculture and manufacturing industry, emerged from a devastating war into a new era of prosperity.

Lesson to Canada
These two chapters of United States history are not without an important bearing upon present day Canada. With the balance of trade so immensely against us as it is, it is certain that in the event of serious European complications and the loss of our foreign markets our only anchor in the storm would be our home market, that is our power of selfhelp. Nothing else would keep our farmers and manufacturers from being swamped into a humiliating abyss of commercial stagnation. In this era of international peace and British naval supremacy Canada should make the best of its opportunities to ensure economic independence. There can be no greater incentive to increased production than safe and sure markets in the neighborhood of the producer, no stronger stimulus than the proximity of farms to cities.

NEW FACTORIES

Gratifying Progress in Industrial Property at Medicine Hat

According to the "Standard" the steel for the new plant of the Saskatchewan Iron and Steel Co. Limited, at Medicine Hat, has now been erected so that work can go on all winter. A new gas well has been completed, and the company will commence the erection of forty houses for its employees shortly. This is a factor in industrial development which is too often lost sight of. Every factory of any consequence means at least an addition of one hundred in population to the town in which the industry is located. That is to each merchant and every farmer in the neighborhood has one hundred more prospective purchasers for his products. One hundred more people have to be fed and clothed, and the volume of trade and traffic in the town in question increases proportionately.

Payroll Increased

Limited, which started grinding in its new mill on July 2nd, found it necessary to put on another shift of men, so the mill is now running at the full initial capacity of 3,000 barrels every twenty-four hours. In addition to the local and district demand, which is increasing steadily, the new mill is very satisfactory. The mill has large orders on hand for England and the Orient. For the latter a shipment of 7,500 sacks, sent out a short time ago, is being followed by another of 15,000 sacks, the first car of the latter order having been shipped to Hong Kong. This one feature is the facility with which the oil, such as bran, shorts, etc., has been disposed of. Very often this is a problem with flour mills, but in the case of the mill has not been able to keep pace with the orders. This indicates, in some degree, how the farmers are
